ABOUT HANNAH

"I'm not building a following. I'm building an empire — and God's been handling the light."

Hannah Jewel Clark is a digital creator, multi-market influencer, and unapologetic voice in the spaces of faith, self-worth, and modern womanhood. Based across Dallas-Fort Worth with an active presence in Austin, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, New York, and Florida, Hannah moves through seven markets with the same conviction she brings to every frame she shoots.

Her content doesn't chase trends — it sets a standard. Whether she's speaking on dating with self-respect, navigating confidence in a world that profits off insecurity, or anchoring hard truths in faith, Hannah's audience shows up because they know she means it. No performance. No filter on the real stuff.

Brands that partner with The Haus of Hannah aren't buying a post — they're aligning with a woman her audience trusts completely. That trust is the product.
